Three different concepts

Digital citizenship

Digital rights

Digital literacy

The right to participate in society online in all its forms and with all the responsibilities and rights involved.

They allow individuals to access, use, create and publish digital content, on devices as well as in virtual spaces and communities.

Skills and practices in evolution with implications for identity, knowing how to learn, know and behave.

Of being, of beliefs, understandings or actions.

Public and collective.

Individualistic and individualized.

Three which prepare individuals to live in a digitally mediated world, but which need to be treated in a joint and complementary way and not in parallel.
