GOVERNANCE IN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS IN PORTUGAL

Prior to 10%, the Government has to be involved in decision making through the presidency of the institution.

In 1974, national and local governments merged into a single governmental body, the Ministry of Education.

In 1988, National courts of appeal were increased by 5%. The Ministry of Education was established.

In 1992, a new standard was set for the organization of educational governance.

In 1999, the national and the regional levels were released from the control of the Education Ministry, and the autonomy of the institutions was increased.

In 2001, the national and local governments merged into a single governmental body, the Ministry of Education.

In 2008, the regional and local governments were released from the control of the Education Ministry, and the autonomy of the institutions was increased.

In 2009, the national and local governments merged into a single governmental body, the Ministry of Education.

In 2010, the national and local governments merged into a single governmental body, the Ministry of Education.

In 2011, the national and local governments merged into a single governmental body, the Ministry of Education.

Governing structures have been extended to other public authorities, such as the Ministry of Education, and the Ministry of Culture.

Governance is a form of social management, which involves the interaction of different levels of government, and the interaction of different actors, including students, teachers, and parents.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.

The Ministry of Education has been responsible for the management of educational institutions, including the formulation of educational policies and the coordination of educational activities.